

White Paper on Education Reform (1995)

The “White Paper on Education Reform” (1995) in Barbados recognised the vital role played by education in the attainment of personal and national goals and objectives. The Ministry of Education accepted the challenge that the design and the provision of education must seek to enable all young people to be knowledgeable and creative and to develop positive attitudes and requisite skills.

Read More:

<http://www.caribecd.org.jm/2002CONF/guyanaconf/EDUCATION%20Issues/BdosCreatingPositiveLearningEnvironment.htm>