

Marshals Undergo Training

Over twenty Marshals of the Court Process Office underwent training during the month of April at the Regional Police Training Centre. The course which was facilitated by the Office of Public Sector Reform exposed participants to such areas as selected aspects of the Court Process Act, statement taking, report writing, giving evidence, self defence survival, conflict management and customer service.

Registrar of the Supreme Court, Ms. Sandra Mason, delivered the closing remarks and presented certificates to the participants. She urged marshals to strive for excellence through the service which they were providing.

